

EXCEED EXPECTATIONS IN ROOT CANAL THERAPY:

TECHNOLOGY INTEGRATION FOR A PREDICTABLE, PROFITABLE, AND PATIENT CENTRIC PRACTICE

INTENDED AUDIENCE

Endodontists interested in learning about new technology including the GentleWave® System.

COURSE OVERVIEW

As new technology emerges in dentistry, questions arise for the modern endodontist: what kind of impact would this technology have on my patients, my team, and my practice? This course will answer these questions and help you gain an understanding of the latest peer-proven technologies in the endodontic space today. Hear from clinicians who have leveraged technology to impact the patient experience, create a more predictable root canal procedure, and maximize profitability for their practice — without adding unnecessary complexity to their routine.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Examine the GentleWave System Mechanism Of Action and the science behind its safety
- Discuss opportunities for creating a more predictable and simplified workflow through use of technological advances such as the GentleWave System
- Review the return on investment and related practice management techniques with the GentleWave System, to include scheduling, billing, and marketing
- Apply learnings in a hands-on clinical lab with instructor oversight

COURSE INSTRUCTORS

Adam Davis
DDS, MSD

Dr. Adam Davis attended the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry, graduating in 2001. He spent five years serving as a general dentist in the US Navy. After fulfilling his active duty commitment, Dr. Davis entered the Endodontic Residency Program at Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, Virginia. He received his Certificate in Endodontics in June of 2008. In July 2008, Dr. Davis opened Cumberland Endodontics with the goal of providing residents in the Greater Nashville area with the finest endodontic care available. Cumberland Endodontics has since expanded to three locations as well as added additional doctors to the practice.

Ron Hill
DDS, MSD
Stacy Hill

Dr. Ron Hill received both his predoctoral training and his endodontic training from the University of Texas School of Dentistry in Houston. He practiced general dentistry for nine years before returning to pursue his endodontic training. He served as a clinical assistant professor at the University of Texas from 2010–2019 and was a director for the American Association of Endodontists. Dr. Hill has two practices in the Greater Houston area for which his spouse, Stacy Hill, is the vice president of marketing. Mrs. Hill received her bachelor's in marketing from St. Bonaventure University in Olean, NY, in 1993 and had 25 years of sales experience with DHL, Oracle and AstraZeneca before directing her concentration to endodontic practice marketing in 2014.
